CONTINUITY OF WELLBEING

Lesson Check In & Pastoral Check In

We want to be able to check-in with students' wellbeing regularly.

Subject Teachers will be marking the roll for each lesson via EmmLink to track student attendance.

During Period 4 Tuesday, our usual Pastoral Period, Pastoral Teachers are to set up a Teams meeting with their pastoral group to check-in and chat.

Pastoral Teachers may do this as a whole group meeting, or in smaller channel groups on Teams.

Pastoral Teachers are asked to write to their Pastoral Group Students for Monday morning to connect, and reassure students that wellbeing support and assistance is available for any student who may need it (via email or Teams).

Students can contact Pastoral Teachers, House Leaders, Director of Students or Assistant Principal – Students if they are feeling in need of wellbeing support.

Mental Health and Wellbeing Resources

The Emmaus College Psychology & Counselling Service has developed resources to help students and parents support the mental health of our young people and their families.

How often will Virtual Lessons take place?

For this lockdown, we will run with a synchronous model. That is, we will follow the timetable as it stands, classes running at the time they usually would. There is an expectation that teachers and students will connect via Microsoft Teams for 10 minutes each lesson. If there is a double lesson this could be split over the two lessons or at the direction of your teacher.

Safe and respectful online learning relationships

The same College expectations for behaviour at school apply to the Microsoft Teams learning space.

All members of the Emmaus College community will conduct themselves respectfully and in a manner appropriate for school while communicating via Microsoft Teams.

Some guidelines for creating and keeping a safe and respectful learning space:

- all students and staff will dress appropriately for Microsoft Teams meetings (smart, casual attire; no pyjamas, no offensive slogans or graphics);
- students and teachers will treat the online learning space as a regular classroom, meaning normal classroom expectations apply;
- all communication will be respectful, kind and considerate of other students and our teachers;
- all Teams lessons will be recorded for the benefit of students who may be absent;
- teachers may conduct one-to-one or small group meetings with their students – these will be recorded too;
- students may make use of the Chat function to discuss their learning with their teacher or their peers, students are expected to use this function in a manner appropriate for school.

While learning online we will have spaces where every person has the right to be safe, comfortable and confident in their learning, and where every person has the responsibility to respect and protect this for their classmates and teacher. In this way, our learning technologies and platforms will be places our people enjoy coming to for learning.

Behaviour Management

Any concerns about learning behaviours will be communicated between subject teachers and parents. If concerns persist, these will be referred to House Leaders.

Any student or parent concerns about the behaviour of other students should be communicated with the subject teacher (if learning related) or to the Pastoral Teacher/House Leader.

The key actions of the House Leader (Directors or Assistant Principal) will be to communicate with relevant parents:

- informing the parents of the other child about a complaint being made;
- advising or directing parents/students to the best external agency, e.g. eSafety Commissioner or Victoria Police;
- consulting with parents about appropriate responses to be conducted by parents.

The College will keep records and, if necessary, may follow-up further when school returns to normal.

EMMAUS ONLINE LEARNING PLATFORMS

The following platforms support online learning and collaboration to ensure a quality student learning experience when planning and delivering remotely:

- EmmLink is the main point of communication between students and their subject teachers;
- parents and students may also utilise the College email system to contact teachers;
- students and teachers at different Year Levels have a range of online resources including Office 365 (OneDrive, OneNote), Edrolo, Education Perfect, Stile and Hot Maths;
- The MS Teams platform will be used to facilitate virtual classes. Any virtual class will be scheduled according to the normal timetable.

How to Keep Well in Isolation

HERE ARE SIX WAYS TO TAKE CARE OF YOUR WELLBEING DURING COVID-19

1.) MAINTAIN A ROUTINE

In times of uncertainty, it is important to maintain a sense of normality. To do this, try to keep to a routine. Wake up at a similar time every day, work to a schedule, go to bed at the same time each day, factor in break time, too. This will enable you to feel a sense of stability in otherwise turbulent times.

2.) STAY HEALTHY

Extensive research has linked physical health to mental health. As such, it is important to take care of your physical health at this time. Try to exercise for at least 30 minutes per day, and eat healthy, nutrient foods which will boost your productivity. Remember, if you need help, your Pastoral Teachers and House Leaders are here for you. The Psychology and Counselling page on EmmLink is also full of resources to assist you in keeping healthy.

3.) STAY GROUNDED

Make time to ensure that you are keeping on top of your mental health. You might do some mindfulness exercises, you might pray, you might practise some gratitude routines. These are important to preserving your mental health. Part of staying grounded will include switching off from the online world.

4.) STAY CONNECTED

Now more than ever, it is vital that we stay connected to one another. Set up Zoom chats with your friends, spend time with your family, phone your relative who lives on their own, write letters to residents in your local retirement community. Stay connected to those around you.

5.) RECORD

Keep a record of what is going on in the world around you. We are a part of living history and our memories will form the basis of how this period of time is remembered. Document your thoughts, feelings, reactions and experiences. One day, you'll be able to share this with future generations.

6.) THINK FORWARD

Set goals for how you will spend this time. What do you want to have achieved by the end of this period? Do you want to have learned an instrument? Do you want to have learned a language? Do you want to perfect a dance routine or master a recipe? Setting goals will give you purpose throughout this time.
